I can't eat with a spoon

And the stars have light

Myself

I know I am special just like you I can do some things like you do too

It might take longer than usual
But I do my best without a pal

Sometimes I don't quickly understand
I feel like I'm in dreamland

I am happy when they join me I know there's so much beauty to see

The Crazy Family

There once was a world famous stepper
Who liked to eat cereal with a pepper
Her family told her to stop
But she ate them until she dropped
And then told her sister to help her

She went to her bed & took a small rest While her mother was in the kitchen making tea with lemon zest
And when she woke up from her bed
Her skin she saw was red And when she saw that she screamed from her chest

Her family said 'sweetie, what's the matter?'
She said 'mom I look just like the mad hatter!'
But she did not for his skin was pale white But her skin was still red and that was not right
Her mom said 'go to the garage and get the ladder

The girl with the red skin had started to cry
The reason for I don't know why
But then her mother climber up to the attic Then came back down with her hair full of static
And then screamed 'my oh my'

The family asked her what had happened
She said 'the generators doing a backbend
The family said 'how can that be?'
One of its power lines was stuck in a tree
And a wire needed a mend

Love

Love is in the air
But sometimes it isn't fair

The icon for love is hearts
They even put them in minimarts

We celebrate it on Valentine's Day
We celebrate it in February, not May

We show how much we care
By giving a teddy bear

This month we celebrate love
We also send a fuzzy dove

Continued

Then everything started to get hazy
And everybody got tired and lazy
The heater had started to break
Which melted the ice cream & cake
This family's house is so crazy!

Masks

Masks are something we all wear
To cover stuff up or give others a scare
We use these to shield ourselves
To make sure no one else sees or tells Masks can cover up an emotion

Just like a strange purple magic potion
They can show others a different expression
But try to see under that, now you have learned a lesson

Masks can be like a new you
You can do stuff you never do But, that aside, take off that mask and just be you Because everyone loves you the way you are too.

Negative on the inside Positive on the Outside

Some people seem the happiest on the outside
But sometimes are hurt or broken on the inside
I think a lot and usually have a full mind
You will receive laughter from me which I can't find

I see the world in a repeated manner, everyday is the same I get up, go to school come back stressed, do homework and sleep
I make many mistakes with only myself to blame Making tough choices is hard because I can't go to the future and peep

I can't be unattended for two seconds Without feeling alone in a small box, cramped and unpleasant
I'm glad I have very comforting friends I'm so tired I could barely run and yet still have to pant

I love this school because this is where my friends are
They make me happy because I feel constant pain
I feel like I won't age and stuck in tar
It's like going on a loop train.

Story Poem

Jar Jar Bings the Walking Seahorse

Jar Jar Bings was a lonely and fine walking seahorse
Jar Jar said 'Seahorses need to make friends, or course'
He wrote in a code mode morse
To lift his fragile vase, using force

There came two bullies, trying to push Jar Jar
The first bully was named Hoff and threw Jar Jar on a car
Puff was swinging on a monkey bar
They just left Jar Jar all alone and Jar jar grabbed on tar

Jar Jar looked very sad
He needed a friend so bad Fred the spider came and said 'what is your name lad?'
Jar Jar recalled advice from his dad

Jar Jar and Fred came up to Hoff and Puff
The two bullies did not look so tough
Jar Jar and Fred found two lonely friends Hoff, Puff, Jar Jar & Fred became friends now the story ends

There once was a lady who married a broom
That was sitting around in her room
At the wedding it was dressed
In a small black vest
As the bride beheld the sight of her inanimate groom

Other people thought it was quite weird
For a woman and broom to be in love as it appeared
And although it was strange
She hadn't the slightest idea to change
And there, a few of her closet friends cheered

Then the tow of them danced around Serenaded by a lovely sound
Others ate tasty food
And were in such a lovely mood
As the bride celebrated the love she'd found

The cake had tasted very sweet
It was such an extraordinary treat
She now spends her life as a broom's wife
And she'd decided to name the broom Pete

No matter how unusual this story can be
It is something interesting to me
Of a lady and a broom
Who became bride and groom
In real life, it would be strange to see.

Lord Gourd of Lupe Ford

I must tell you a tale so tall
Of a squash in which did nothing at all
It was the latter part of 1828
When a baby gourd came shipped in a crate
He later became a surgeon desperate to fix his face
He was actually quite good, earning a respectable place
Then one day an opportunity arose
The king of Lupe Ford had to fix his nose
So he flew to the king and went to his house
There he befriended a mischievous mouse 'Do you want to have power?' said the innocent rat
'You can do it be poisoning him cow fat'
'If he is dead his nose fixer is next in line' Now it was set they would do it when they would dine
He thought now he'd have people on his side
Then the next day the king mysteriously died
But it did not last very long
For then his old friend mouse came along
And ratted him out like all rats do
The 'king' got locked up & said he would sue Soon with a beep bop boop sim ping
The mouse had become a powerful little king
The gourd got out but had to pay a fine
Turns out the mouse was third in line

My Friends

At my small but lovely school
I have some 6th grade friends Some inside jokes which are rather cool
That don't follow the latest trends

One of my friends is named Addi
Then there's two more Ryan and Mich
The last one is Amber AKA Dadi These are the friends I would never ditch

We have fun during recess
As well as work time too
Summer camp is great no less But now I have to go to a school that is new

Even though soon it's time to say bye
We had lots of fun indeed
I'll never hang my head and cry
'Cause I'll keep you deep inside of me
